

You walk in with ENERGY. Music is already playing (something with presence, not yet danceable - think cinematic, building).

"Welcome. My name is Huzz."

PAUSE. Eye contact around the room.

"Before we do ANYTHING... I want you to think about this: You could be anywhere right now. You're in BALI. You could be at the beach. Getting a massage. Eating the best food of your life. But you're HERE. In this room. With me. With these strangers."

"So here's my first question - Why? Why are you HERE?"

"Here's what I believe... Part of you already KNOWS something needs to change. You didn't fly across the world for a vacation. You came for a TRANSFORMATION. And that's exactly what we're going to create today."

"Everybody UP. Find some space in the room."

STAGE 1: Breaking the freeze

"Start walking. Just walking. Notice how it feels to move. Notice if there's any tension you're holding. Just... walk." (30 seconds)

STAGE 2: Connection

"Now as you pass people, make eye contact. Just for a moment. Don't say anything. Just SEE them. Let them SEE you." (30 seconds)

STAGE 3: State embodiment - Cool

"Now I want you to walk like you're the COOLEST person in Bali. Whatever that means to you. Maybe it's confident. Maybe it's relaxed. Maybe it's magnetic. Show me COOL."
(30 seconds - you're moving too, MODELING it)

STAGE 4: State embodiment - Happy

"Now shift. Walk like you're the HAPPIEST person in Bali. Not performing happiness. Actually FEELING it in your body. What does happy WALK like?"

STAGE 5: Integration + Reframe

Music softens but doesn't stop.

"Now slow down... find a spot... stand still..."

PAUSE. Let them settle.

"You've traveled thousands of miles to be here. Part of you already knows something needs to change."

"But here's what most people get wrong about Bali..."

PAUSE.

"They think the healing is HERE. In the rice paddies. In the temples. In the yoga studios."

"It's not."

"The healing is in YOU. It always has been. Bali just gives you permission to access it."

"Today isn't about having a beautiful experience you'll post on Instagram and forget by next month."

"Today is about creating a transformation that TRAVELS HOME WITH YOU."

"Because here's the truth... the version of you that boards that return flight? That's who we're building today."

SECTION 3: IDENTITY ANCHOR + DANCE (12-18 min)

"Stay where you are. Close your eyes."

"Think about the life that's calling you. The one you see when you're honest with yourself at 2am. The one you might be afraid to want."

"Now... in ONE WORD... who do you need to BECOME to live that life?"

"Don't overthink it. First word that comes. What is it?"

PAUSE. Let them find it.

TRANSITION TO DANCE:

Music starts building - now it's DANCE music. Energy shifts.

"Now... here's what I want you to do..."

Think back to you as a kid and as the music starts. Dance as if you were them.

Return to your seats.

"Before we go any further... I need to ask you something."

"What even IS healing? And why do we need it?"

"Take a moment to think about you as a kid. How playful you were. How full of love. How care-free."

"Remember that?"

"I'm a big believer we're still those small people in grown-up bodies. That playful, loving, care-free kid? They didn't go anywhere. They're still in there."

"So where did they go?"

"Here's what I believe..."

"Somewhere along the way, we had experiences that made being ourselves feel UNSAFE.

We live in a society that is riddled by fear of judgement, fear of failure and fear of not being good enough. As if its normal to have these fears.

But I'm here to say that's bullsh*t.

I'm here to say thats what happens when normalise trauma.

And I know this because I did it to myself for 14 years without realizing. Let me tell you about something that happened to me..."

[Rainbow clothes story - 60-90 seconds, emotionally connected]

"That moment? Laughing at my clothes? It was so small. But it changed how I showed up for FOURTEEN YEARS."

"That's what I call an emotional splinter."

"And here's the thing..."

"It doesn't matter what these moments are. What matters is we HATE how we felt. The shame. The embarrassment. The fear. We never want to feel that way again."

"For me, by my early 20s, this meant no more rainbow clothes. No more playfulness. No more dancing."

"Basically all the things that anyone who knows me today... all the things that light me up and make me, me."

PAUSE. Let it land.

"This is what breaks my heart most about emotional splinters..."

"They leave us too scared to be ourselves."

"And I believe every single person in this room has them."

"So let's find yours."

Ready?

Healing Compass

Section 1: 4 emotional needs

At the most basic level, humans need two things: to SURVIVE and to THRIVE.

"Two of these needs are about survival - making sure you're safe and not alone.

"Two of these needs are about thriving - becoming more and mattering."

Survive	Thrive
Life Design - Autonomy (freedom to choose)"	"Mastery - Competence (ability to grow)"
"Connection - Relatedness (bonds with others)	"Meaning -Purpose (mattering beyond yourself)

As i share each I just want you to observe the emotional charge you feel inside. Ready?

"Close your eyes."

"Take a breath and let your body land."

"For the next few minutes, you don't need to perform.

You don't need to get it right."

"Just listen. Just feel. Let whatever comes, come."

"Your only job is to be honest with yourself."

"Let the outside world fade. Let the mask soften."

"It's just you now. The real you. Ready to see what's been running the show."

Life Design:

"Imagine you're stuck in a life you didn't choose."

"A job you don't want. A routine that drains you. A path that was never yours."

"But you can't leave. Because the bills are real. The responsibilities are real."

"You're trapped. Not by chains - by circumstances."

"And the worst part?"

"You KNOW there's more. You can feel it."

"Another version of your life. Another path. The one you were actually made for."

"You can see it. You just can't reach it."

"So you stay. And you shrink. And you tell yourself 'for now' while 'for now' turns into years."

"Just a cog in someone else's machine."

"And the colour starts to drain."

"Everything becomes grey. Predictable. Safe... but dead."

"You're not living. You're just existing. Going through motions that were never yours."

"Part of you wants to break free. To bet on yourself. To feel ALIVE again."

"But another part whispers: 'What if it all falls apart? What if you leap and there's nothing there?'"

"So you stay frozen. Craving adventure but terrified of the fall."

"Wanting to scream. But swallowing it down."

"Watching life pass by in grey while the colourful version of you waits somewhere you can't reach."

So you reach for something. Anything. To feel alive for a moment."

"The scroll. The shop. The gamble. The late-night rabbit hole."

"A hit of novelty. A taste of excitement. A few seconds where you feel like you have a choice."

"But then it fades. And you're back in the grey. Needing more."

"Notice what happens in your body right now."

Connection:

"Imagine you're in a room full of people."

"Everyone is laughing. Talking. Connected."

"And you're there... but you're not IN it."

"You're on the outside looking in. Watching connection happen around you. But not to you."

"So you adapt. You shape-shift. You become what you think they want."

"You laugh at the right moments. Say the right things. Wear the right mask."

"And sometimes it works. They let you in."

"But here's the thing you never say out loud..."

"It's not YOU they let in. It's the version you built for them."

"The real you - the one with struggles, with fears, with needs - stays hidden."

"Because the one time you let them see it? When you opened up and shared what was actually happening?"

"They didn't show up. They didn't hold it. They moved on."

"And that confirmed what you always suspected:"

"If they really knew you - the unfiltered, unedited, real you..."

"They wouldn't stay."

"So you keep performing. Keep shape-shifting. Keep earning love you never fully trust."

"Surrounded by people. Still completely alone."

"Because no one actually KNOWS you. And you're starting to wonder..."

"Maybe you're just not lovable. Maybe this is as close as you get."

"So you reach for something that feels like connection. Even if it's not real."

"The scroll through social media. The likes. The comments. Someone saw you, even if just for a second."

"The text to someone you know you shouldn't text. The sweetness that fills the hole for a moment."

"The saying yes when you mean no - because at least they'll stay if you're useful."

"But none of it fills you. Because counterfeit connection can't touch the real ache."

"Notice what happens in your body right now."

Mastery:

"Imagine you're giving everything you have."

"Your best effort. Your full attention. Showing up every single day."

"And it's not working."

"You look around and see others gliding past you. Making it look easy. Getting results you can't seem to crack."

"You're running at full speed... and somehow still falling behind."

"And the worst part isn't the failure."

"It's the question you can't escape:"

""What's wrong with me?""

"Not your strategy. Not your approach. YOU."

"That deep suspicion that everyone else got something you didn't."

"That you're fundamentally missing whatever it takes."

"And no one else seems to be struggling like this. Just you."

"Alone in that gap between how hard you're trying and what you have to show for it."

So you do the only thing you know. You push harder."

"Work longer. Sleep less. One more revision. One more attempt."

"Maybe another coffee. Something to keep you sharp. Keep you going."

"Because if you just work hard ENOUGH, maybe you'll finally close the gap."

"But the gap never closes. And the exhaustion just builds."

"Notice what happens in your body right now."

Meaning:

"Imagine waking up tomorrow and doing all the things."

"The tasks. The work. The motions."

"But none of it matters to you."

"You're productive. You're busy. You're getting things done."

"But there's no fire. No pull. No reason that makes your chest burn."

"You look at what you're building and feel... nothing."

"And that question starts creeping in. The one you try not to ask:"

"What's the point?"

"Not sad. Not angry. Just... empty."

"You watch others light up about their work. Their mission. Their thing."

"And you wonder what that feels like. To care that much. To be pulled by something bigger than yourself."

"But you? You're just... here."

"Going through days that blur into weeks that blur into years."

"No legacy. No dent in the universe. Nothing that screams 'I WAS HERE AND IT MATTERED.'"

"Just existence. Ordinary. Forgettable."

"And underneath all of it, a quiet terror:"

"What if this is it? What if you never find the thing that makes it all mean something?"

"What if you live your whole life and leave no trace?"

"Just an empty pit where purpose should be."

"So you fill it. With whatever makes the emptiness quiet."

"The drink that softens the edges. The episode that eats another night. The scroll into oblivion."

"Not because it feels good. Because feeling nothing is better than feeling this."

"But tomorrow the pit is still there. Waiting. Unchanged."

"Notice what happens in your body right now."

Section 2: Identification

"Keep your eyes closed."

"You've just felt into all 4 needs."

"Some probably felt neutral. Like... 'yeah, sorta"

"But one of them... maybe two... created a CHARGE."

"A tightness. A pull. A 'that one hurts.'"

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"Which need created the strongest response in your body?"

"Don't think about it. Your body already knows."

"Life Design. Connection. Mastery. Meaning"

"Let one rise to the top."

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"When you have it... stay with it."

Section 3: Action to get unstuck

"Now ask yourself..."

"To honour this need i have. What ACTION do i need to take?"

"Not a vague intention. A specific action."

"Something you KNOW you should do... but haven't."

"Maybe it's a conversation you've been avoiding."

"Maybe it's a boundary you need to set."

"Maybe it's something you need to ask for. Or let go of. Or finally start."

"You already know what it is."

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"What's the action that would change everything... if you actually took it."

Section 4: Protective pattern

"Now here's the real question..."

"If you KNOW what to do... why haven't you done it?"

"Something is stopping you. A protective pattern. A way of keeping yourself safe that you learned a long time ago."

"I'm going to describe 5 patterns. As I read them, notice which one your body responds to. Not your mind. Your BODY."

PAUSE.

"The Ghost. You disappear. You hide. You stay invisible. You avoid being seen at all costs because being seen feels dangerous."

PAUSE. 3 seconds.

"The Controller. You grip. You manage. You can't delegate, can't trust, can't let go. You white-knuckle through life because if you're not in control, everything falls apart."

"The Performer. You achieve. You impress. You're always ON. You earn love through what you do because who you are never felt like enough."

PAUSE. 3 seconds.

"The Perfectionist. You prepare. You polish. You wait until it's perfect. Nothing is ever ready because making a mistake feels like the end of the world."

PAUSE. 3 seconds.

"The People Pleaser. You say yes when you mean no. You put everyone else first. You abandon yourself to keep others happy because your needs never seemed to matter."

"Which one landed?"

"Maybe it was obvious. Maybe you felt it before I finished the sentence."

"Maybe it's a combination. That's okay. Pick the ONE that has the strongest grip on you right now."

So let's get this straight."

"You know the need that's running your life. [Need]."

"You know the action that would change everything. [Action]."

"And you know the pattern that keeps stopping you. [Pattern]."

"You've probably known this for a while. Maybe years."

"So here's my question..."

"If nothing changes - if this pattern keeps running you for another 5 years... 10 years..."

"Where does that lead?"

Don't think about it. SEE it. "

"You're still avoiding [the action]. Still running [the pattern]."

"What does your life look like? Your relationships? Your health? Your joy?"

"What opportunities have passed you by? What have you missed?"

PAUSE. 10 seconds. Let it land.

"How does THAT feel in your body?"

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"Is that acceptable to you?"

PAUSE.

"No. I didn't think so."

"So let's find out where this pattern came from. And let's end it today."

1. Which need?
Life Design. Connection. Mastery. Meaning.

2. What action do you need to take?

3. Which protective pattern?

Ghost

Performer

Controller

Perfectionist

People
Pleaser

What's the future?

"Stand up. Find some space. Whatever pattern you wrote down - show me what it looks like in your body.

"Ghosts - show me what hiding looks like.

"Controllers - show me holding it all together."

"People Pleasers - show me The 'yes of course.'"

"Performers - show me the chameleon.

"Perfectionists - show me the tension of never ready.

"Feel how familiar this is. You've been doing this for YEARS. This posture. This tension. This protection."

PAUSE.

"Now... this pattern has a voice. A favourite line it tells you."

"'Stay small.' 'Don't mess up.' 'They'll leave.' 'Not good enough.'

'Keep everyone happy.'"

"What's YOUR pattern's line?" "Got it? Good."

"Now... say it out loud... in the most RIDICULOUS voice you can find."

"Mickey Mouse. Darth Vader. A dramatic telenovela actor. An opera singer. A tiny mouse. Whatever makes you want to laugh."

"Ready? On three. Everyone together. Don't hold back."

"One... two... three."

[Room erupts in silly voices]

"Again! Even more ridiculous!"

[More chaos, laughter]

"Now shake it off. Literally. Shake your hands, your body, let it go."

[Physical shake]

"Notice what just happened?"

"Same words. Same belief. But it lost its grip."

"That thing that's been running your life? It's not the TRUTH. It's just a voice. A pattern. A script you picked up when you were young."

"And today, we're going to find out where it came from... and end it."

Section 5: 4R's

"Now you have three things:"

"The NEED you're craving."

"The ACTION you know you need to take."

"The PATTERN that's been stopping you."

"This is where most people get stuck forever. They know what to do. They just can't make themselves do it."

"That's because knowing isn't enough."

"Look at that pattern. The Ghost. The Controller. The Performer. Whatever you wrote down."
"You didn't wake up this morning and DECIDE to be this way."
"You didn't CHOOSE to hide. Or grip. Or perform. Or please."
"Somewhere between when you were a carefree kid and today... something happened that made this pattern feel necessary."
"That pattern isn't a flaw. It's a survival strategy."
"And it's stored in your body, not your mind."
"Which means we can't THINK our way out. We have to HEAL our way out."
"That's the splinter. And in the next few minutes, we're going to find it."
"Let me show you how."

How do we do that?

Healing follows the 4R's.

Personal Story tracking what was needed to become a rainbow again.

Section 6: Identifying the source and the moment that created this pattern.

Close their eyes.

Close Your eyes and take a breath. And Another one. One more.

"Think about that need. The one that created the strongest charge."

"The need for love, meaning, mastery, autonomy."

"Feel it in your body again. That ache. That longing. That thing you've been craving your whole life."

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"That need didn't become so important by accident."

"You don't crave what you've always had. You crave what was taken - or never given."

"Somewhere in your past... this need got THREATENED."

"Something happened that made you feel like that need wasn't safe. Wasn't guaranteed. Could be taken away."

"Now I invite you to visualise your floating in space... light and free.

You see a light in the distance so you move towards it. As you get closer you realise its a timeline of your life. From the day you're born to now to your future. You glide over to where it starts and begin seeing the highlights of your childhood. The joy, the giggles, the love. Take a moment to bathe in this feeling, this memory.

But you now ask the timeline to show you when the first moment this need of yours was unmet.

"When did you first feel that connection, mastery, meaning or autonomy wasn't safe?"

PAUSE. 10 seconds. Hold the silence.

"Don't force it. Just notice what comes. An image. A face. A place. A feeling. An age."

PAUSE. 10 seconds.

"If nothing specific is coming, that's okay. Ask yourself: WHO first made me feel this way?"

"Who first made me feel like this need wouldn't be met?"

"Was it a parent? A sibling? Kids at school? A teacher? A coach?"

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"When you have something - even if it's not perfectly clear - give me a thumbs"

FOLLOW-UP: If a Participant is Struggling

"If you're struggling to find a specific memory, that's okay."

"Instead, ask yourself: What's the EARLIEST age you remember feeling like this need wasn't met?"

Need-specific prompts:

Life Design: "When did you first feel trapped? Like your choices weren't yours?"

Mastery: "When did you first feel like you weren't enough? Like no matter how hard you tried, you couldn't close the gap?"

Connection: "When did you first feel alone? Like you were on the outside looking in?"

Meaning: "When did you first feel like you didn't matter? Like your existence made no difference?"

If Still Nothing:

"If nothing specific came, that's okay."

Sometimes the mind has locked it away, but your body remembers just stay with this feeling

Section 7: Embodiment + Visualisation revisiting

I want you to put yourself back there. You're not remembering it. You're IN it.

You're back in that phase of life. In that room. That playground. That classroom. Wherever it was.

It's happening. Right now.

Notice what's happening in your body as you let yourself be there.

PAUSE. 10 seconds. Let them FEEL it.

Where do you feel it?

Is it in your chest? Your stomach? Your throat? Your shoulders? Your jaw?

What shape is it?

How big is it?

What colour is it?

What texture is it?

Is it moving?

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

Just notice. Be aware of it. Just feel what's there.

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

In that moment - that young version of you - didn't have the tools to process what was happening.

So your brain did what brains do. It created a story.

A story about yourself. About others. About what was safe. About how the world works.

A story designed to make sure you would NEVER feel that way again.

PAUSE.

What did you decide was TRUE?

Write it down. Use one of these sentence starters if it helps:

'I am...' 'I must...' 'I can't...' 'The world is...'

Examples:

"Maybe it was 'I am too much.' Or 'I must stay invisible.Or 'If I'm seen, I'll be rejected.'"

"Whatever YOUR version is bring it to mind now"

Section 8: Mismatch

Part 1: The Confrontation

"So how old were you when you create this belief?

You were 5-10-15 years old..."

That version of you had an experience that really hurt, they didn't know what else to do...

so in that moment, your brain create a story.

And you've been living by that story... Every. Single. Day. Since."

PAUSE.

If you met a 5-10-15 year old on the street would you accept their life advice? No...

So does your hurt-kid get to run your life?

Does that wounded child get to decide your career?

"Does that scared version of you get to choose your relationships?"

PAUSE.

"Here's the tragic irony..."

"That pattern? It was supposed to protect you."

"But the very thing you did to AVOID the pain... created more of it."

"The Ghost hides to avoid rejection... and never gets to be truly seen or loved."

"The Controller grips to feel safe... and pushes everyone away."

"The People Pleaser abandons themselves to keep love... and loses themselves in the process."

"The pattern didn't protect you. It guaranteed the wound would keep repeating."

Part 2: The Reframe

But That's not your fault."

"You were a kid. You did the best you could with what you had."

"But It was never the TRUTH. It was a survival strategy. Created by a child who didn't have another option."

"But you're not that kid anymore."

"And you have options now that child didn't have."

Part 3: Mismatch

"Now ask yourself this question..."

"Has it ALWAYS been true?"

PAUSE. 5 seconds.

"Can you think of ONE moment - even just one - where that belief was NOT true?"

"A time you WERE seen... and you weren't rejected."

"A time you WEREN'T perfect... and you were still loved."

"A time you let go of control... and things were okay."

"A time your needs DID matter to someone."

"A time you didn't perform... and you were still accepted."

PAUSE. Let them search.

"Find that moment. It might be small. It might be recent. It might be from years ago."

"When you have it... go there. Be IN it."

PAUSE. 10 seconds.

"Who was there? What happened?"

"How did it FEEL to have that belief be wrong?"

PAUSE.

"Now... HERE'S THE WORK..."

"Hold BOTH at the same time."

"The wound... AND this counter-evidence."

"The old belief... AND the proof that it's not the whole truth."

"Don't choose. Don't resolve. Just hold them both."

PAUSE. 10 seconds.

"Feel what happens in your body when you hold both."

"THAT tension? That's the old pattern updating."

That's healing happening right now."

Section 9: Somatic Release

"Find a spot with some space around you."

"Feet about shoulder width apart. Knees soft, not locked. Close your eyes."

"Here's how we breathe:"

"In through the mouth. Out through the mouth. Connected. No pause at the top or bottom."

"Like a circle. In... out... in... out..."

Demonstrate 5-6 breaths

"Breathe into your belly first, then your chest. Two-part inhale if that helps. But keep it connected. Keep it moving."

BEGIN BREATHING + SHAKING:

"Start breathing now. Find your rhythm."

"And as you breathe... let your body start to move."

"Soft knees. Let them bounce."

"Shake your hands. Let your arms be loose."

"The breath and the movement together."

LOCATING:

Keep breathing. Keep moving."

"Now... bring that memory back. That kid you"

"Let yourself feel what you felt then. The shame. The fear. The hurt."

"You're safe now. But let your body feel it."

"Breathe INTO it. Don't run from it. Move WITH it."

ALLOWING + PERMISSION TO MOVE:

instead of holding it in... let your body respond."

"If there's sound that wants to come - let it out."

"If there's tears - let them fall."

"If your body wants to shake harder - let it."

"This is what your body has been waiting to do. Let it complete."

Music peaks here.

"Last 30 seconds. Give it everything. Breathe. Shake. Move. Sound."

"Let that kid finally be FREE."

BREATH + MOVEMENT:

"Take a deep breath in..."

"And as you exhale - let your body do what it needs."

"Shake your hands out if that feels right."

"Let your knees bounce."

"Roll your shoulders."

"Whatever movement wants to happen - let it."

PAUSE. 20-30 seconds of allowing movement.

"Another breath. Deep in..."

"And exhale with sound if it wants to come. A sigh. A groan. A growl. Let it out."

"Start to slow your breath down... but keep your eyes closed."

"Let the shaking settle. Feel your feet on the ground."

"Keep your eyes closed."

THE VISUALIZATION:

"In your mind's eye... I want you to see that younger version of you."

"The one from the memory. That kid you"

"See them there. In that moment. Right after it happened."

PAUSE. Let them find the image.

"Notice how they're standing. How they're holding themselves."

"Notice the look on their face. The pain. The confusion. The shame."

"They're alone. No one came. No one explained. No one held them."

PAUSE. Let this land.

THE APPROACH:

"Now... the you of TODAY... walks toward them."

"You're not a kid anymore. You're you of today. You've survived. You're here."

"Walk toward that child and Kneel down so you're at their level. Look them in the eyes."

THE HUG:

"And when it feels right... open your arms to hug them."

"Let them melt into your chest"

"Hold them."

PAUSE. Give them 10-15 seconds here.

"Feel what it's like to hold that part of yourself."

"The part you've whose been scared, whose been hurt, who has felt all alone.

"Hold them the way they needed to be held back then."

PAUSE. This is where tears often come.

"If you want to physically wrap your arms around yourself right now... do it. Hold yourself for real."

THE MESSAGE:

"Now... I want you to tell them something."

"What does that child need to HEAR? What did no one tell them back then?"

Maybe its: 'You are free. Your life is yours to create.'"

'You are enough. You always were.'"

'You are lovable. Exactly as you are.'"

'You matter. Your existence counts.'"

"Whatever YOUR younger self needs to hear... tell them now."

PAUSE.

"Whatever YOUR younger self needs to hear... tell them now. Out loud or in your heart."

PAUSE. 15-20 seconds. Let them deliver the message.

THE NEW TRUTH:

"That message you just gave them..."

"That's not just for them. That's for YOU."

"That's the truth that's been waiting to replace the old belief."

"Say it again. To yourself. To the child. To both of you."

"Let it land in your body. In your chest. In your bones."

PAUSE.

"This is your new truth."

THE INTEGRATION:

"Take a breath together - you and that younger self."

"Feel them inside you. Part of you. Finally welcomed home."

"They're with you. And you've got them."

PAUSE.

"Take a breath. Feel your feet on the ground."

"Before we go any further... I want you to check something."

"Think about that stuck situation you wrote down at the very beginning."

"The area of your life. The action you said you needed to take."

PAUSE.

"Notice what happens in your body NOW when you think about it."

PAUSE. 10 seconds.

"What's different?"

"It may feel lighter"

"The fear is smaller"

"Feel you could actually do it now"

"That shift you're feeling? That's not temporary. Something actually changed."

"The memory is the same. But your relationship to it is different."

"THAT'S reconsolidation. That's healing."

"Welcome back."

"You've just done some of the deepest work a human can do."

"You went back. You felt it. You let your body complete something it's been holding for years."

"And you gave that younger version of yourself something they never got."

"Before we move forward, we're going to do something important."

"You might share: What came up for you. What you felt in your body. What you told your younger self. Or just one word for where you're at right now. There's no wrong answer."

"When someone shares, We just listen. We hold space. we say Thank you. I see you."

"This is how healing becomes real. Not alone. Together."
